nication and networking within our community. I hope to make FHRA representation an ongoing addition to the management of LILA. This will insure continued communication with LILA and success for both organizations.

In the last edition of the Overview, mention was made about holiday lighting along the bridge. A picture of the proposed design was printed, and the Association was gung-ho about the project. Unfortunately, once we got into the design and measurements, a number of road blocks got into our way. As a result, FHRA is back into the planning phase, and we hope to have the design up and shining next Fall. Of course, anyone interested in helping out in the project is urged to contact the Association.

Our membership numbers have been both up and down. Some of this is the Association's responsibility in reminding everyone of their annual dues. The remaining share is in the hands of our membership. We are always in need of members and contributions to financially support the projects in our community.

The annual membership meeting also informs us about our members and project suggestions. As a 501(c)(3) organization, FHRA offers you a tax-deductible advantage and the understanding that the money goes right back into the community. As mentioned in prior newsletters, please send in your membership dues and find just one other neighbor to do the same. Together, we can improve our neighborhood.

In closing, over the last three years it has been a great pleasure and honor in presiding over this Association. The responsibilities and duties have been both demanding and rewarding. As I take leave of the leadership position, I hope to provide continued work on the board and wish the next Association president good fortune in the development of our wonderful community.
